Tips You May Use:

- A lead statement introduces the model by name, town/county or club name.

- Tell how this garment fits into the model's total wardrobe.
- Discuss any original techniques used.
- Tell something about the model – background and special interests or hobbies.

Examples 1:

Won't Abe Link, from the Homestyle 4-H Club be proud on the first day of cold weather to be wearing his new colorful and very warm casual jacket? This is Abe's first clothing project where he learned basic sewing skills. Abe learned how to keep his eyes on the sewing machine needle so he could sew straight. This jacket is constructed from fleece with a camo design that he can wear at any outdoor event or even hunting with his dad. Abe commented that it is fun to wear this outfit, but it is even more fun to tell people he made it all by himself. Abe is the son of Mary and Abraham Link from May. What a great first outfit. We can't wait to see your next outfit. Great job, Abe.

Example 2:

This rayon challis dress is just right for dress-up days at school and other special occasions. Maria Delgado, from Brownwood FCCLA, chose this forest green fabric because it complements her beautiful skin tones and it also the perfect color to wear the year-round. Notice the lace-tucked edges on the bodice and the circular skirt that is a timeless throw-back to the 1950s era. One of Maria's learning experiences this year was matching fabric, lace and thread. She said it was difficult, but the time she spent looking for just the right colors and textures sure paid off! She is the very talented seamstress daughter of Christian and Mariana Delgado. Maria, you have a beautiful outfit – wear it with pride!
